Urban V-Class: Stylish on four wheels

Best comfort in a compact space? Guaranteed in the VANTourer Urban based on the Mercedes V-Class. The popular model is available this year at the Caravan Salon in Düsseldorf at an exclusive price advantage.

Koblenz. Now that the Urban Vito has already established itself as a public favorite, VANTourer presented the popular model based on the Mercedes V-Class for the first time last year. With its proven compact cut and fresh design, this version is also impressive. A closer look inside the vehicle reveals the advantages of the model.

Elegance meets flexibility

Space-saving and well thought-out, the Urban is based on the Mercedes V-Class with additional storage compartments and a practical clothes rail in the rear area, as well as other optimized features. All equipment elements are in high-quality oak wood design, giving the interior an elegant and modern look. For an optimal camping experience, the Urban has a removable kitchenette and four comfortable sleep areas. A particular highlight is the revised table concept, which makes it easy to set up the table outdoors to enjoy nature to the full. And the Urban also scores points after the camping adventure: Simply remove the kitchen, table and bench seats and you have a spacious all-purpose vehicle.

Storage space at a low price

Practical functions, stylish design and even more storage space: VANTourer is setting new standards with the Urban V-Class. At the Caravan Salon in Hall 01, Stand 1A01-06, visitors can see the advantages for themselves and even benefit from attractive discounts.
